Wildfire Smoke Tips

During wildfire season, these tips can help you lower health impacts from wildfire smoke:

- Reduce outdoor physical activity. Exercise increases the amount of air your lungs take in by as much as 10 to 20 times, allowing pollution deeper into the lungs.
- Reduce exposure to smoke. Children, the elderly, women who are pregnant, and people with respiratory or heart conditions should be particularly careful to avoid exposure.
- Turn on your air conditioner. Reduce exposure to outdoor smoke by closing all windows and doors and turning on the air conditioner. Consider visiting a place with air conditioning if no air conditioner is available and it is too warm to stay indoors.
